Best, O. C. C. If there is any thing that will endure The eyes of God, because it still is pure, It is the spirit of a little child, Fresh from His hands, and therefore undefiled, Nearer the gates of Paradise than we, Our children breathe its airs, its angels see; And when they pray, God hears their simple prayer; - Yea, even sheathes his sword, in judgment bare. - R. H. Stoddard. It is childish! Very true, my friend, and therefore praise-worthy, and good for our souls did we follow it, for unless you be converted, and become as little children you shall not enter into the Kingdom of Heaven. This was the prelude to a discussion of divers devotions. My subject is then, literally, childish. It is in season too. The old year, with its good and bad, its joy and pain, is dead and buried. Holy Church takes...
