By University of Michigan

Forgotten Books, 2018. Hardback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from The Quadrangle Book: Being Excerpts From Q Bryce; A. V. Dicey; George Birkbeck Hill; A. G. Grenfell; Reginald Broughton; R. S. Wright; Edward Caird; Walter Pater; R. L. Nettleship; Wm. Berkley; Ingram Bywater. It tells little that seven of them became prominent professors, that one was a cabinet minister, that one was a judge of the English High Court, and that two were heads of Oxford colleges. The point to note is, that seven of the nineteen proved to be something like great men, in that they have done much to mould their generation. Nichol and Caird returned to Glasgow, whence they had come, to enter upon a career destined to revolutionise Scottish thought; Green marked himself the greatest writer on ethics England has had in the nineteenth century; Swinburne beat Arnold out of poetry, and fixed a new star in the mighty Victorian constellation; Bryce interpreted the United States to itself and to his countrymen Pater lent England a new style of criticism; Nettleship, ere his tragic death, wielded the most potent influence in Oxford,...
