Excerpt: .opponent against whom the enmity of the dragon is especially directed. When the war begins, we have every reason to expect that as the one leader takes the command, so also will the other. There is much to confirm this conclusion. The name Michael leads to it, for that word signifies, Who is like God? and such a name is at least more appropriate to a Divine than to a created being. In the New Testament, too, we read of Michael the archangel 1--there seems to be only one, for we never read of archangels--and an archangel is again spoken of in circumstances that can hardly be associated with the thought of any one but God: The Lord Himself shall descend from heaven with a shout, with the voice of the archangel, and with the trump of God. Above all, the prophecies of Daniel, in which the name Michael first occurs, may be said to decide the point. A person named Michael there appears on different occasions as the defender of the Church against her enemies, and once at least in a connexion leading directly to the thought of our Lord Himself: And at that time shall Michael stand up, the great prince which standeth for the children of Thy people: and there shall be a time of trouble, such as never was since there was a nation even to that same time: and at that time Thy people shall be delivered, every one...
