

Twitchhiker: How One Man Travelled the World by Twitter

By Paul Smith

Summersdale Publishers, United Kingdom, 2012. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 194 x 128 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book. There were five rules of Twitchhiker: o I can only accept offers of travel and accommodation from people on Twitter. o I can t make any travel plans further than three days in advance. o I can only spend money on food, drink and anything that might fit in my suitcase. o If there is more than one offer, I choose which I take. If there is only one, I have to take it within 48 hours. o If I am unable to find a way to move on from a location within 48 hours, the challenge is over and I go home. Bored in the bread aisle of the supermarket one day, Paul Smith wondered how far he could get around the world in 30 days through the goodwill of users of social networking site Twitter. At the mercy of these rules, he set his sights on New Zealand - the opposite point on the planet to his home in Newcastle. All he had to do next was explain the idea to his new wife. In an adventure wrapped in...

This publication will never be straightforward to get going on looking at but really fun to see. This can be for all those who statte that there had not been a worth looking at. You wont really feel monotony at at any moment of your own time (that's what catalogs are for about should you request me).
