The Subcommittee will come to order. The Subcommittee meets today to continue oversight on improving lease management of Federal oil and gas resources. To date this Congress, the Subcommittee has held two hearings on the Clinton Administration's Reinvent Government II, or otherwise known as Rego II, proposals concerning mms offshore and royalty management programs, oversight and legislative hearings on hr. 1975, a bill to improve the efficiencies of royalty collections, and two hearings on domestic energy policy related to increasing domestic production and creating jobs. Today's hearings will investigate the Department of Interior's progress on a proposal to transfer the Bureau of Land Management's oil and gas inspection and enforcement functions to the States. Of course, the relatively new requirement that States bear a portion of the Federal Government's costs to administer the Mineral Leasing Act of 1920 for leases within their borders is in large measure why we are here today addressing the possible transfer of certain functions to those States which seek an alternative. Federal bureaucratic inefficiencies now cost States twice, once when royalties which may be properly owed go uncollected because the Department of Interior's Mineral Management Service has other priorities - or as I have said before, Spending dollars to chase dimes - and, secondly, when the elm, Forest Service, and mms costs to run the leasing program - from initial land-use planning through royalty. Collections -...
