Rives s, due west of it, which brick wall was intended to be plaecd on the line, and perhaps is on it,) running seventy feet on E street, and running back the same width to an alley, believed to be one hundred and fifty nine feet from E street, with all the houses on the lot, and everything else on it that was claimed by us on the 1st of May, 1845, when we put you in possession of the lot and appurtenances, ex cept the articles which were to be, and have been removed by us since. When we deliver to you such a deed, we ex pect you to pay to us $11,666 66. The correspondence on the subject ended here. They then paid the last installment of the purchase money, witrnut interest, and Mr. Blair and myself made them a deed with a general warranty. I have never been able to get the arbitration bond, which the arbitrators had, or a copy of it. I believe Mr. Ritchie has now the original arbitration bond. I am not a lawyer, but I knew enough to know that the naked contract would not allow interest, and that word was not in it; and hence I would not agree to submit to lawyers without taking oral evidence to explain the intention of the parties to it. Messrs. Ritchie Heiss took evidence, which was before the arbitrators. Blair Rives were not...
