Forgotten Books, United States, 2015. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 229 x 152 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from The Pulse of the Organization During the past year a committee of executives of the Doherty Organization planned a course of lectures which were delivered to the employees of the Organization on Tuesday afternoons on Company time in an auditorium located near the central office of the Organization. Each member of the Organization, from the members of the co-partnership and the heads of department to the youngest recruit among the junior clerks attended these meetings. In selecting the subjects of the addresses, and in assigning members of the Organization and in inviting outsiders to address the Organization, an effort was made to furnish to the employees material which was both inspirational and educational in character. The object sought in the inclusion of each address in this series was stated by the chairman at the commencement of each address, and these introductory remarks of the chairman have been reprinted at the commencement of each chapter of this volume. Each address was reported stenographically. A copy of the address in printed form was distributed to each member of the Organization shortly after the delivery of the address for careful study and permanent preservation. In the hope that this collection of addresses may be found to contain some information regarding the Doherty Organization which will be of interest and of practical value to the friends of the Organization and to those who are professionally concerned in the problems of personnel administration, a few sets of these addresses have been bound in book form.
